We will remember
For those who fought for their country
It was not fair
But on the 11th of November we will remember

The fields of poppies that surround us
Make us remember the people who fought in war to save us
So whenever you see a poppy field, remember the people who saved us
By Scarlett

Remember the day they did the war
Remember the day some people had to fall
We wear poppies to remember the people that died in the war
We will do this forever and never stop.
By Amelia O'S

Today the 11th day of the 11th month we all remember the people who made us here today all the poppies in a circle waving around. We will remember them.
By Lucas

100 years ago, thousands of boats set sail
With men whose families were going to send a lot of mail
The men who went fought bravely, not all of them survived.
When the war was done and the battle won,
Only a few ships came back, because so many died.
Now that's why there's Remembrance Day,
To remember those who no longer see the sun rise.
By Megan

Every day we have fun and play,
We remember those who are still so sore,
We remember those who died at the war,
WW1 and WW2, we remember those who stood in the queue to get permission to fight at war, we remember those who are still so sore, who died at war.
By Reily

The poppies were red, the ocean was blue
We will always remember you that went to war and sacrificed yourself for us.
By Lewis

In November we share a day with the Commonwealth for those who died in WW1.
It is called Remembrance Day to remember those who died or were affected by war.
On Anzac Day and Remembrance Day we well remember them.
